

Appendix – Information About CST

The Christian Schools' Trust brings together Christian schools to support, encourage and strengthen them by providing training and resources that will equip them to interpret and challenge culture in the light of God's Word, by the power of God's Spirit and for the sake of God's Kingdom.

The CST Science Curriculum Team is a group of Christian science teachers who have been meeting regularly since 1990 in order to produce science curriculum materials which reflect a distinctively Christian worldview.

The team has been led by Dr Arthur Jones and his research has provided the basis for their work.

This book contains a small sample of that work, chosen to illustrate the nature and fruitfulness of the approach they have developed.
